MENTORS FOR LIFE

IILM has always strived to empower its students by providing them value based education and necessary inputs to achieve excellence in the world of business and mentoring does just that. Mentors can contribute towards shaping up students’ personality and towards enabling them to realize challenging roles. Both (the mentor and the mentee) have a role to play in the success of this initiative.

The IILM Mentoring Program engages students, faculty, staff, and business professionals in an environment that promotes academic excellence, leadership development, and career exploration for students. Furthermore, the program supports students’ continuous growth and development, the transfer of knowledge, and the building of capability in our mentees and mentors.

During the three years, a mentor’s role is developmental. The mentor aims to help you set your goal and prepare for a professional career. The mentor will:

• Identify your strengths, attributes and interests.
• Define clearly how you can improve on them.
• Classify preferences about job and career.
• Set short and long term goals.

The periodic mentor-mentee interactions help students become aware of their goals, identify path leading to the goals and overcome barriers to achieve them. Regular mentor-parent interactions help forge a strong bond where the faculty and parents work in tandem towards a better future for the student.
Students at IILM care for one another—in College and throughout their careers. IILM Alumni are the factual representatives of our college.

You’ll connect most closely with your class, but your seniors will guide you and demonstrate to you the ropes. Your alumni will be important contacts throughout your career—beginning with recruitment.

The patronage at IILM expands to a large number of the country’s leading and best companies. IILM builds connection between alumni and current students to foster a sense of community and continuity between generations. Our alumni assist the current students to explore possible career paths and direction even before you graduate and you can approach them at any stage of your career.

Alumni share their industry experience and learning with the students through alumni meet and seminars. It’s a great way to give something back and extend the association.
“Being a student at IILM, I believe the three years have provided a great way to explore ones interest as the college offers a wide range of activities. As the founding member of the Scholars Club I got an opportunity to meet like minded individuals to enhance my social skills and knowledge with the world around me.”
